Loma Linda University (LLU) is a Seventh-day Adventist educational health-sciences institution with more than 4,000 students located in Southern California.

Students from more than 120 countries around the world and virtually every state in the nation are represented in Loma Linda University’s student body. LLU also offers distance education.

Eight schools comprise the University organization. More than 100 programs are offered by the schools of Allied Health Professions, Behavioral Health, Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health and Religion.

Curricula offered range from certificates of completion and associate in science degrees to doctor of philosophy and professional doctoral degrees.

*As LLU does not accept first year, first-time undergraduate students, the retention rate is based on new transfer students the following academic year.

More information is available at: http://nces.ed.gov/collegenavigator/?q=Loma+Linda+University&s=all&id=117636