HISTORY

Loma Linda University has grown out of the institution founded at Loma Linda, California, by the Seventh-day Adventist church in 1905. The original schools—Nursing and Medicine—have been joined by Allied Health Professions, Dentistry, Public Health, the Graduate School, and the Faculty of Religion.

The University, operated by the Seventh-day Adventist church, is committed to the vision of its founders and is sustained by its close association with the church.

Loma Linda University is a Seventh-day Adventist coeducational, health-sciences institution located in inland southern California. It is part of the Seventh-day Adventist system of higher education. Professional curricula are offered by the Schools of Allied Health Professions, Dentistry, Public Health, Medicine, and Nursing. Graduate programs in various biomedical sciences are offered by departments of the schools. The professional curricula of the University are approved by their respective professional organizations.

The most current campus census figures (1999-2000) indicate that the core of the combined faculties consists of 1,051 full-time teachers. Part-time and voluntary teachers, largely clinicians in the professional curricula, bring the total to 2,254. Men and women from 87 nations are represented in the 1999-2000 enrollment of 3,410.

PHILOSOPHY

As implied by its motto, “TO MAKE MAN WHOLE,” the University affirms these tenets as central to its view of education:

God is the creator and sustainer of the universe.

Mankind’s fullest development entails a growing understanding of the individual in relation both to God and society.

The quest for truth and professional expertise, in an environment permeated by religious values, benefits the individual and society and advances the ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist church.
Our Mission

Loma Linda University, a Seventh-day Adventist Christian health-sciences institution, seeks to further the healing and teaching ministry of Jesus Christ “to make man whole” by:

- Educating ethical and proficient Christian health professionals and scholars through instruction, example, and the pursuit of truth;
- Expanding knowledge through research in the biological, behavioral, physical, and environmental sciences and applying this knowledge to health and disease;
- Providing comprehensive, competent, and compassionate health care for the whole person through faculty, students, and alumni.

In harmony with our heritage and global mission:

- We encourage personal and professional growth through integrated development of the intellectual, physical, social, and spiritual dimensions of each member of the University community and those we serve.
- We promote an environment that reflects and builds respect for the diversity of humanity as ordained by God.
- We seek to serve a worldwide community by promoting healthful living, caring for the sick, and sharing the good news of a loving God.

To achieve our mission we are committed to:

OUR STUDENTS

Our primary responsibility is the education of students—who come from diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds—enabling them to acquire the foundation of knowledge, skills, values, attitudes, and behaviors appropriate for their chosen academic or health care ministry. We nurture their intellectual curiosity. We facilitate their development into active, independent learners. We provide continuing educational opportunities for our alumni and professional peers. We encourage a personal Christian faith that permeates the lives of those we educate.
OUR FACULTY, STAFF, AND ADMINISTRATION

We respect our faculty, staff, and administration who through education, research, and service create a stimulating learning environment for our students. They contribute to the development of new understandings in their chosen fields. They demonstrate both Christian values and competence in their scholarship and professions.

OUR PATIENTS AND OTHERS WE SERVE

We provide humanitarian service through people, programs, and facilities. We promote healthful living and respond to the therapeutic and rehabilitative needs of people. We seek to enhance the quality of life for individuals in local, regional, national, and world communities.

OUR GOD AND OUR CHURCH

We believe all persons are called to friendship with a loving God both now and throughout eternity. We support the global mission of the Seventh-day Adventist church by responding to the need for skilled Christian health professionals and scholars. We seek to honor God and to uphold the values of the Seventh-day Adventist church and its commitment to awakening inquiry. We are drawn by love to share the good news of God expressed through the life and gospel of Jesus Christ and to hasten His return.
Nondiscrimination Policy

The University was established by the Seventh-day Adventist church as an integral part of its teaching ministry. It is committed to equal education and employment opportunities for men and women of all races and does not discriminate on the basis of handicap, sex, race, color, or national origin in its educational and admissions policies, financial affairs, employment programs, student life and services, or any University-administered program.

To this end, the University is in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 as amended, and in substantial compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (34 CFR 106 et seq.), Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, and Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Adjustment Act of 1974; and does not discriminate against any employees or applicants for employment on the basis of age or because they are disabled veterans or veterans of the Vietnam era. In addition, the University administers student programs without discrimination on the basis of age, except in those programs where age is a bona fide academic qualification for admission in accordance with the provisions of the Age Discrimination Act of 1975.

The University reserves constitutional and statutory rights as a religious institution and employer to give preference to Seventh-day Adventists in admissions and employment, including but not limited to 42 USC Secs. 2000e-1, 2000e-2; Sec. 6-15 of Federal Executive Order 11246; 41 CFR Sec. 60-1.5(5); 20 USC Sec. 1681 (a)(3); 34 CFR Secs. 106.12 (a)(b), 106.21, 106.31, 106.39, 106.40, 106.51, and 106.57; California Government Code Sec. 12926(d)(1); Title II, Division 4, Chapter 2, Sec. 7286.5 of the California Code of Regulations; the First Amendment to the United States Constitution; and Article I, Sec. 4, of the California Constitution. The University believes that Title IX regulations are subject to constitutional guarantees against unreasonable entanglement with or infringements on the religious teachings and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist church. The University expects students and employees to uphold biblical principles of morality and deportment as interpreted by the Seventh-day Adventist church. The University claims exemptions from the provisions of Title IX set forth in 34 CFR Secs. 106.12 (a)(b), 106.21, 106.31, 106.39, 106.40, 106.51, and 106.57.
Affirmative Action

The University routinely monitors its educational and employment practices regarding women, minorities, and the handicapped to ensure compliance with the law and University policy. The University’s affirmative action policy is to provide equal access to admissions, educational programs and activities, financial aid, student services, and employment.

In compliance with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, a grievance procedure has been established to process student complaints alleging violation of these regulations or of the University’s policy of nondiscrimination based on gender or handicap. Inquiries concerning Title IX may be directed to the affirmative action officer. Employment-related discrimination complaints, including those filed by student employees, are processed in conformity with the provisions outlined in existing staff personnel policies. Complaints related to discrimination in academic areas are reviewed in conformity with the procedures established by the academic administration.

GENERAL RELIGIOUS STUDIES
The Faculty of Religion is pleased to serve the schools of Loma Linda University by offering a rich variety of courses in religious studies. We hope that this bulletin will help prospective students learn more about the University's religion courses and the faculty members who teach them. We trust that current students and their advisors will find here the information they need to make excellent choices.

This bulletin also contains information about the two graduate programs directed by the Faculty of Religion: the M.A. degree in biomedical and clinical ethics and the M.A. degree in clinical ministry. These programs are attracting a growing number of students from many parts of the world. We hope that readers of this bulletin will share our enthusiasm for these innovative programs. Information and application materials for these graduate programs are available by calling 1/800/422-4LLU.

On behalf of all my colleagues in the Faculty of Religion, let me invite you to consider the courses and programs described here. We are eager to assist you in making the choices that will enrich your faith, broaden your horizons, and enhance your capacity for Christian service.

Sincerely,

Gerald R. Winslow, Ph.D.
Dean

Mission Statement

HISTORY

In the configuration of Loma Linda University as a health-sciences university, the role of religion as integrative in each of the programs of the University is mandated and continuously affirmed by the University administration and the Board of Trustees. To assist in this integration, the Faculty of Religion (formerly the School of Religion) was established in July of 1990.

PHILOSOPHY

As implied by its motto, "TO MAKE MAN WHOLE," the University affirms these tenets as central to its view of education:

- God is the creator and sustainer of the universe.
- Mankind's fullest development entails a growing understanding of the individual in relation to both God and society.
- The quest for truth and professional expertise, in an environment permeated by religious values, benefits the individual and society and advances the ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist church.

MISSION

The Faculty of Religion is committed to the following four tasks as informed by the teachings and practice of the Seventh-day Adventist heritage and mission:

1. To promote Christian wholeness for faculty and students in their personal and professional lives and witness.
2. To provide a religion curriculum with the following emphases:
   - Foundational Studies (biblical, theological, mission, and historical).
   - Ethical Studies (personal, professional, and social).
   - Relational Studies (applied theology, clinical ministry, and psychology of religion).
3. To foster and support research in the foundational, ethical, and relational disciplines.
4. To serve the University, the church, and the larger world community by personal involvement in fostering deeper spirituality, theological integrity, and social justice.
General Information

ADMISSIONS INFORMATION

The program admissions committees of the University intend that an applicant to any of the schools is qualified for the proposed curriculum and is capable of profiting from the educational experience offered by this University. The admissions committees of the Graduate School accomplish this by examining evidence of scholastic competence, moral and ethical standards, and significant qualities of character and personality. Applicants are considered for admission only on the recommendation of the program in which study is desired.

APPLICATION AND ACCEPTANCE

Where to write
Inquiries regarding application and admission should be addressed to:
Office of Admissions
Graduate School
Loma Linda University
Loma Linda, CA 92350

Application procedure
1. Two copies of the graduate application should be filled out and mailed, together with the application fee, to the above address. Applications and all supporting information, transcripts, test results, and references should be submitted at least two months before the beginning of the term for which admission is sought. Some programs require applications to be completed by a much earlier date.
2. Two complete official transcripts of all academic records from all colleges, universities, and professional or technical schools should be provided. It is the applicant's responsibility to arrange to have the transcripts, including official English translations if applicable, sent directly by the registrar of each school attended to the Graduate School Office of Admissions. Transcripts that come via an intermediary are unacceptable.
3. A personal interview is often desirable and should be arranged with the coordinator of the program in which the student wishes to study.

Acceptance procedure
1. When the program which the student wishes to enter has evaluated the application and made its recommendation, the dean of the Graduate School takes official action and notifies the applicant. The formal notice of admission should be presented at registration as evidence of eligibility to enter the Graduate School.
2. As part of registration, accepted students will be asked to file with Student Health Service a medical history with evidence of certain immunizations.
3. Transcripts of records and all other application documents are retained by the University and may not be withdrawn or used by students for any purpose. Records of students who do not enroll, or who withdraw prior to completion, are retained for two years from the date of original acceptance to the Graduate School program.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

A four-year baccalaureate degree (or its equivalent) from an accredited college or university is a prerequisite for admission to the Graduate School. Transcripts of the applicant's scholastic record should show appropriate preparation, in grades and content, for the curriculum chosen. Since there is some variation in the pattern of undergraduate courses prescribed by different programs, the student should note the specific requirements of the chosen program. Deficiencies may be removed while enrolled; prerequisites must be completed prior to matriculation.

Scholarship
Applicants are expected to present an undergraduate record with a grade point average of B (3.00) or better in the overall program and in the field of the major. Some students with an overall grade point average between 2.50 and 3.00 may be admitted provisionally to graduate standing, provided the grades of the junior and senior years are superior, or there is other evidence of capability.
Graduate Record Examination

Scores on the general test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) are required with applications for admission to degree programs. Requirements for certificate programs vary, and applicants are advised to request information specific to their proposed program of study. Students may address inquiries about these examinations to the Graduate School Office of Admissions, which can provide application forms and information about special administration of the examination on days other than Saturday.

Application forms for the GRE and information as to examination times and places are furnished by Educational Testing Service, 1947 Center Street, Berkeley, CA 94701 (for the West); and Princeton, NJ 08540 (for the East).

When pressure of time makes it impossible to secure the GRE results, students seeking admission who have otherwise above-average achievement may be admitted provisionally, subject to review when the required test results are received. In such cases, test results are to be submitted within the first quarter of attendance. Certain programs with limited admissions may require the GRE results prior to acceptance; while some programs require the subject test. Please check student guides from individual programs for further information.

Reentrance

A student who discontinues studies at the University must meet the entrance requirements effective at the time of reentrance, unless a leave of absence has been granted. Fees are required for reentrance applications, and supplementary documents may also be required.

Change of program or degree

Students who are currently enrolled in the Graduate School may request transfer to a different program or a more advanced degree level by completing an application form and submitting two letters of reference along with the appropriate fee. Transcripts on file with the University are acceptable.

International students

The admission of students from countries other than the United States or Canada is limited to those who meet all requirements for admission, submit official English translations of their transcripts, furnish suitable recommendations from responsible persons, pass the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or the Michigan Test of English Language Proficiency (MTELP) if English is not the student’s native language, and give evidence of ability to meet all financial obligations to the University during the course of study.

Inquiry about the time and place of administration of the tests should be addressed to Educational Testing Service at the addresses noted under the section “Graduate Record Examinations.”

Scholarships and assistantships for first-year graduate students from abroad are extremely limited; consequently, applicants should assume that they will need to have financial resources sufficient for a full year’s study. A deposit must be made to International Student Services before immigration documents are furnished.

Exchange visitor

The University program for exchange visitors, through the United States Information Agency, may be advantageous for international students. Persons entering the United States on an exchange visitor visa (J-1) are subject to the same regulations on study load and work as are F-1 students. In addition, they are required to have health insurance for themselves and their families. Further information may be obtained from the University Student Affairs Office.

Visa forms

Forms for both the F-1 and the J-1 visas are issued by the adviser in the Office of International Student Services to the student after acceptance and after financial arrangements have been made with that office.

Student visa

A graduate student entering the United States on a student visa (F-1) must successfully carry a study load of at least 8 units during each quarter of the academic year. The applicant must be prepared to provide such advance deposit as is required by Student Finance and must give assurance that additional funds will be forthcoming to meet school expenses. Fellowships and assistantships for international students are limited, and employment is restricted by regulations of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to no more than twenty hours per week.

English competence

All international students are encouraged (particularly those who do not have an adequate score on TOEFL or MTELP or other evidence of English proficiency) to attend an intensive American Language Institute prior to entering their program. Further information about opportunities for such programs can be obtained from the Office of Admissions. Further study of English may be required to assure progress toward the degree.

ADMISSION CLASSIFICATIONS

Applicants are admitted in one of the following classifications. For regular or provisional status, applicants must be approved for acceptance by the program in which they propose to study. Others may be permitted to enroll, subject to availability of facilities, and will be classified as nondegree students.
Regular

Regular status is given to a student who meets the scholarship and examinations requirements for admission to the graduate program of choice, has met all prerequisites, and has no undergraduate deficiencies.

Provisional

Provisional status is given to a student (a) whose scholarship does not reach the level for regular graduate standing but who shows strong promise of success in graduate studies, (b) who has the prerequisites but whose undergraduate preparation is inadequate for the chosen graduate program, or (c) whose admissions documentation is incomplete at the time of notification of acceptance. To continue eligibility for graduate study, a student admitted on provisional status must achieve a grade point average of 3.00 quarter by quarter, with no course grade less than C (2.00).

Nondegree

Nondegree status is given to a student who wishes to enroll in graduate courses for personal or professional benefit but who is not seeking a graduate degree. Such applicants complete a special application form.

Nondegree students in the Graduate School are permitted only 12 units of study for regular grades. Beyond the 12 units, only audit (AU) may be recorded.

Certificate

Students seeking admission to one of the Graduate School’s postbaccalaureate or post-master’s certificate programs apply in the usual way for regular or provisional admission but are classified as certificate students.

Auditor

With the consent of the adviser and the instructor of the course, a student in any classification may register for a course as auditor. The student is required to pay half the regular tuition and agrees to attend at least 80 percent of course lectures.

College senior

A senior with a grade point average of 3.0 or above may request to take a graduate course simultaneously with courses that complete the bachelor’s degree requirements if the total does not constitute more than 12 academic units.

Registration requires approval of the instructor, the program director or coordinator, and the Graduate School dean.

FROM MASTER’S TO PH.D. OR PSY.D. DEGREE

Bypassing master’s

A graduate student at this University may proceed first to a master’s degree. If at the time of application the student wishes to qualify for the Doctor of Philosophy degree, this intention should be declared even if the first objective is a master’s degree.

If after admission to the master’s degree program a student wishes to go on to the doctoral degree, an application form should be submitted, along with letters of reference, to the dean of the Graduate School. If the award of the master’s degree is sought, the student will be expected to complete that degree before embarking on doctoral activity for credit. A student who bypasses the master’s degree may be permitted, on the recommendation of the guidance committee and with the consent of the dean, to transfer courses and research that have been completed in the appropriate field and are of equivalent quality and scope to his/her doctoral program.

Second master’s

A student who wishes to qualify for an additional master’s degree in a different discipline may apply. The dean of the Graduate School and the faculty of the program the student wishes to enter will consider such a request on its individual merits.

Concurrent admission

Students may not be admitted to a Graduate School program while admitted to another program at this University or elsewhere. The exceptions to this are the combined-degrees programs, discussed in the Graduate School Bulletin or in Section III of this Bulletin under Combined-Degrees Programs.

The purpose of this interdisciplinary course of graduate study leading to a Master of Arts degree in biomedical and clinical ethics is to prepare qualified persons to engage in education, research, and service pertinent to the ethical issues in health care and human biology.

This degree is designed primarily for two types of students: those who are planning to pursue a career in biomedical ethics and who desire the Master of Arts degree as a step toward graduate work at the doctoral level, and those who wish to acquire the degree in order to complement their career in health care or another profession.

The Biomedical and Clinical Ethics Program is administered by the Faculty of Religion through the Graduate School. It draws upon resources from many sectors of the campus, including clinical faculty in four of the University's schools, Loma Linda University Medical Center's Department of Clinical Ethics, the Center for Christian Bioethics, and the Center for Spiritual Life and Wholeness. The M.A. degree program cooperates with the Center for Christian Bioethics in a variety of ways. The center's Thompson Library, a constantly growing collection with approximately 2,500 volumes, aims to become one of the most comprehensive libraries of materials in biomedical and clinical ethics on the Pacific Slope. These materials, which are an especially valuable resource for graduate students, supplement the related holdings in the primary libraries of Loma Linda University and nearby institutions.

The primary objectives of the Biomedical and Clinical Ethics Program are to:
1. Promote interdisciplinary study of ethical issues in health care and human biology.
2. Provide practical experience through observation and participation in clinical ethics.
3. Offer course work in the theological, biblical, and philosophical resources for ethics.
4. Prepare students for subsequent doctoral work in ethics.
5. Enhance understanding of biomedical ethics for members of the health care and other professions.

Transfer credits
Students are permitted to transfer up to 8 units of approved graduate-level courses from other accredited institutions into the Biomedical and Clinical Ethics Program. In addition, prior or current students in Loma Linda University's other post-baccalaureate degree programs are permitted to petition to receive credit for a maximum of 12 units for courses completed in their professional studies that are directly related to biomedical and clinical ethics.

Comprehensive examinations
Each student must pass five comprehensive examinations within a period of two weeks. These written examinations will test the student's ability to integrate and apply knowledge from the following areas: (1) philosophical ethics, (2) theological and biblical ethics, (3) biomedical and clinical ethics. These examinations must be successfully completed before the student defends a thesis or its approved substitutes. Review questions and bibliography for each of the areas will be supplied to the student.

Thesis or Project
Each student must either prepare a thesis while registered for RELE 697 and RELE 698, or prepare three major papers of publishable quality in courses approved as substitutes by the guidance committee. The student must provide an oral defense of a thesis or three major papers that analyzes specific issues, cases, dilemmas, or themes in biomedical and clinical ethics. By the time they complete 24 quarter units in the program, students must declare whether they intend to write a thesis.

Theology and Ministry

The Master of Arts degree in clinical ministry encourages students to explore the theological, biblical, and historical roots of ministry within the institutional setting and to prepare for the practice of such ministry. It is especially valuable as preparation for careers in chaplaincy and other fields of ministry. It is specifically designed for three types of students: (1) those at the beginning of their professional lives, (2) those pursuing this degree in order to enhance or shift their existing careers, and (3) those pursuing this degree as a steppingstone to further study. This degree furthers education in caring for the whole person. The student will develop clinical skills applicable to contemporary ministry.

The program includes education in two areas: academic and clinical. Academic preparation is provided by the Faculty of Religion and other cooperating departments within the University.

Settings providing clinical opportunities for training in institutional ministry include: Loma Linda University (LLU) Medical Center (MC), LLU Behavioral Medicine Center, LLU Community Medical Center, SAC Health Systems-Norton Clinic, Jerry L. Pettis Memorial Veterans Hospital, LLU Faculty of Religion Center for Spiritual Life and Wholeness, and others.

LLUMC, under the auspices of the Department of Chaplain Services, is an accredited Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) Center. Students admitted to the Clinical Ministry Program may apply for this clinical placement. (Separate application procedures are required.)

The faculty represents a balance between academic expertise and clinical experience; as well as a variety of disciplines, including: biblical studies, theology, theology and ministry, marriage and family therapy, cultural psychology, American church history, health education, nursing, and ethics.
The program has the following objectives:
1. Develop persons skilled in the practice of ministry in both routine and critical settings.
2. Expose students to a wide range of biblical, theological, and practical material pertinent to the field.
3. Provide a broadly based education in ministry, with specific focus on the practice of ministry.
4. Prepare students for membership in various professional organizations, such as the American Association of Pastoral Counselors (AAPC), the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education (ACPE), the Association of Professional Chaplains (APC), etc.
5. Contribute positively to the student's pastoral formation.

Admission

In addition to meeting admission requirements for the Graduate School, the applicant to the Clinical Ministry Program must:

1. Propose clear personal and professional goals and ways in which the program in clinical ministry can facilitate their realization;
2. Persuade the Admissions Committee, by previous accomplishments, that he or she is able and willing to reach these goals and to make a distinguished contribution to the field.

Course requirements

In order to receive the Master of Arts degree in clinical ministry from Loma Linda University, the student will complete a minimum of 48 units of course work as herein specified, with an overall grade point average of B or better, with no grade lower than C, and with no grade in a core course lower than a B-.

The required curriculum is as follows:

TOTAL UNITS REQUIRED (48)

Transfer credits

Students are able to transfer up to 8 units of approved graduate-level courses from other institutions into the University’s program in clinical ministry.

Clinical internship

Students must also satisfactorily complete an approved, one-year (i.e., 1,600 hours) clinical internship. The program recommends that this requirement be met by the satisfactory completion of four quarters of clinical pastoral education (CPE) at an accredited CPE center. (Note: Acceptance into a quarter of CPE is at the discretion of the CPE supervisor and must be arranged individually and in advance.) The expectation of the program is that all students will complete all course work before entering the clinical internship. In certain cases, however, a student may petition the director of the program to take the clinical internship out of sequence. Even in such cases, the recommendation is that RELR 565, RELR 568, and RELR 694 be completed before entering the clinical internship.

RELR 524 Clinical Pastoral Education, if taken as a selective, may account for a maximum of 6 academic units; and, if taken for academic credit, must be taken in addition to the 1,600-hour clinical internship.
After every 400-hour segment, a clinical evaluation form must be submitted to the program director.

Comprehensive examination
Each student must pass a comprehensive examination. This examination will test the student's ability to integrate and apply knowledge from the overall program. This examination must be successfully completed before the student defends a thesis, project, or papers.

Thesis, project, or publishable papers
Each student must either prepare a thesis while registered for RELR 698 or prepare a project while registered for RELR 696 or prepare two major papers of publishable quality. Independent research for either the thesis or the project is done while registered for RELR 697. The project option must be designed and implemented within the confines of the program and under the auspices and direction of the program director. The student must provide an oral defense of the thesis, project, or two major papers. By the time they complete 12 quarter units in the program, students must declare whether they intend to complete a thesis, a project, or two major papers.

Combined-Degrees Programs

The Master of Arts degree in biomedical and clinical ethics and the Master of Arts degree in clinical ministry may be combined in one of two combined-degrees programs. The combined Master of Arts in biomedical and clinical ethics/Doctor of Philosophy in psychology or Doctor of Psychology degrees are offered by the Graduate School and are directed by the Faculty of Religion and the Department of Psychology. The combined Master of Arts in clinical ministry/Master of Science in marital and family therapy degrees are offered by the Graduate School and are directed by the Faculty of Religion and the Department of Counseling and Family Sciences.

Inquiries regarding application, admission, tuition, student life, and other information should be addressed to:

This combined-degrees program combines study for the M.A. degree in biomedical and clinical ethics with one of three doctoral programs offered by the Department of Psychology of the Graduate School. The purpose of the combined-degrees program is to facilitate more efficient completion of graduate programs in ethics and psychology for the student with interests in both areas. Students who complete the program should be prepared to make significant interdisciplinary contributions to the fields of psychology and of ethics. In order to enter this combined-degrees program, students must gain separate acceptance to the M.A. degree program in ethics and to one of the doctoral programs in psychology. Information about admission to these programs is available from the Graduate School.

FACULTY

The faculty for the combined-degrees program in biomedical and clinical ethics and in psychology is drawn from the Faculty of Religion and from the Department of Psychology, Loma Linda University Graduate School.
BIOMEDICAL AND CLINICAL ETHICS–Master of Arts with PSYCHOLOGY–Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Psychology

Course requirements
Students in this combined-degrees program complete all of the requirements for both degrees with greater efficiency by taking a number of courses that fulfill requirements in dual fashion and by careful selection of elective courses. Approval for the selective courses should be sought from the students' advisers for both degrees.

BIOMEDICAL AND CLINICAL ETHICS—M.A. CURRICULUM
The total number of units required for the M.A. degree is 48. The following courses constitute the core requirements for students completing the M.A. degree in biomedical and clinical ethics when taken with psychology as part of the combined-degrees program with psychology:

PSYCHOLOGY—Ph.D. or Psy.D. CURRICULUM
Students completing one of the doctoral programs in psychology will complete all of the course requirements as listed in the Graduate School BULLETIN except for the 12 units of minor concentration, which will be fulfilled by the same number of units from course work in ethics, as prescribed above.
The combined Master of Arts degree program in clinical ministry and Master of Science degree program in marital and family therapy (MFAM) have many common subject areas, such as the spiritual and clinical emphasis in caring for the whole person. The joining of the two degree programs provides the student with the added Christian clinical counseling skills needed to minister to many spiritual and mental health problems. The MFAM degree also prepares the student for a clinical license. Licensure allows the student in the M.A./M.S. combined-degrees program more options for practice, including private practice. The students’ ability to provide more services to the community—in addition to the traditional areas of practice, such as hospitals, churches, and schools—is increased.

The primary objectives of the combined-degrees program in clinical ministry and marital and family therapy are to:

1. Produce skilled professionals in clinical ministry and marital and family therapy in a family clinical ministry track.
2. Expose students to the currently available content material in the fields of clinical ministry and marital and family therapy.
3. Provide for supervised field and clinical training that will give students the opportunities to apply and integrate theoretical knowledge toward the development of clinical ministry and family therapy skills and competencies.
4. Provide activities by which students can develop the personal and professional maturity required to identify with the spiritual preventive and curative aspects of clinical ministry and marital and family therapy.

The family clinical ministry track provides the basis for doctoral work in mental health and religious studies. Outstanding students are encouraged to explore possibilities for further studies.

FACULTY

The faculty for the combined-degrees program in clinical ministry and marital and family therapy is drawn from the Faculty of Religion and the Department of Counseling and Family Sciences, Loma Linda University Graduate School.
Course requirements

In order to receive the Master of Arts in clinical ministry and the Master of Science in marital and family therapy degrees from Loma Linda University, the student will complete a minimum of 103 units of course work as specified, with an overall grade point average of B or better, with no grade lower than C and with no grade in a core course lower than a B-. THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

Major library resources

Four major library resources on campus support the University's academic programs. These are: the Del E. Webb Memorial Library, the Joergensen Learning Resources Center, the Jesse Medical Library and Information Center, and the Veterans Administration Library Services. In addition to these facilities, specialized libraries are located in various medical and school departments on campus.

Central library

The Del E. Webb Memorial Library is the central library of Loma Linda University. Its historical roots go back to 1907, when a small library collection was started in a room of the old Loma Linda Sanitarium. In 1953 the growing collection was moved to its own building on the Loma Linda campus. Then in 1981, a new library building was built from a grant by the Del E. Webb Foundation, giving the library a total floor space of 87,670 square feet. This structure now houses the main library, while the old structure is now shared between the Department of Archives and Special Collections and the bound retrospective journals. As of April 2000, the library has a total collection of 402,455 books, bound and current journals, and media items (193,679 books; 125,752 bound journals and 1,403 current periodical subscriptions; and 81,621 media items).

Library mission

The mission of the Library is to stimulate and support the information needs of the University's instructional, research, and service programs. To this end the Library provides a full range of information support services, including, but not limited to, reference, circulation, reserve, access to the internet, and hundreds of online databases, e.g., full-text, selective, automatic dissemination of information services (SDI); database end-user training programs; library orientations; interlibrary loans; photocopy and pull services; a microcomputer laboratory; a learning service resource center; class-integrated library instruction programs; and services that support distance education and University outreach programs.

Worldwide access

The Library provides access to other collections worldwide using internet technologies. It also participates in a number of national and regional networks. One of these is the National Network of the Libraries of Medicine, founded by the National Library of Medicine. This structure is divided into eight regional sections, one of which is the Pacific Southwest Region. The Del E. Webb Memorial Library belongs to this region and is the designated medical resource library for San Bernardino and Riverside counties. Local library cooperatives include the IEALC (Inland Empire Academic Library Cooperative) and SIR-CULS (San Bernardino, Inyo, Riverside Counties United Library Services). Membership in these cooperatives gives our students, faculty, and staff access to the collections of these libraries.

Archives and special collections

The Department of Archives and Special Collections is the central repository of information on the history of Loma Linda University, the health sciences, and major collections on Adventism. In addition to print materials which include rare books, theses, and dissertations, there are microforms, sound recordings, and several thousand photographs. Searchable digitized indexes for various document files are also available via the Library’s website. The collection also includes 14,000 linear feet of archival materials, which include papers of various denominational and University officials, as well as the congressional papers of the Honorable Jerry and Shirley Pettis.

ELLEN G. WHITE ESTATE LOMA LINDA BRANCH OFFICE

Also located in the Library is a branch office of the Ellen G. White Estate. It contains 60,000 type-written pages of Ellen G. White's letters and manuscripts; 4,600 of her published articles; and several different files of materials pertaining to various aspects of her life and ministry. A computerized concordance to her published writings is available to researchers. A link to a bibliography of the different variant editions of her works is available on the Library’s home page.
